

Title: The Journey

So many times we focus on the destination and don't enjoy the journey. We put off enjoying today for some expected reward tomorrow. We use phrases like, "I'm not good enough yet" or "I don't have enough money." We postpone enjoyment of the activity until we reach some arbitrary goal.

We all end up in the same place - in a box six feet under the ground or cremated. So, the ultimate goal is not that attractive. Most achievement involves a life long journey; so don't put off the joy of small victories or magic moments along the way. Enjoy each day as a special gift. Enjoy the Journey!
