

Kearsarge Lakes

This Is The Moment!

This is what I came here for. All the sweat and struggle to get here is distilled in this one precious drop of time! Here is the confluence of all that is beauty and wonder! The flow of bright sun combines with that of sparkling water and soothing breezes to create that special magic moment we only experience once in a great while!

I don't understand it. All things combine to create this moment and I want to hang on to it as long as I can. No wonder I am drawn back to the Sierra again and again.
