

Magic Moments at Rae Lakes

I'm sitting in the soft grass near Rae Lakes. It's been a tough pull up from our camp at Woods Creek, but I am feeling strong and relaxed. What an amazing moment! Everything is perfect - the temperature, the beautiful mountains and lakes, and the amazing clean, fresh air filled with fragrances!

You don't find this just anywhere. I am overwhelmed! I am ecstatic and floating. I am in the moment! This experience in space and time only happens very rarely!

Then one of my hiking companions catches up with me and sits down beside. When he asks, "How are you doing?" I can't even speak. So, we sit in silent adoration of the beautiful lakes and mountains surrounding us. We understand what words can't convey.
